Dear Mr. von Finckenstein:

I am writing to confirm our arrangement concerning the legal advice you may request with respect to certain aspects of U.S. law and policy relating to trade and investment.

We will perform work that you request in accordance with our usual practice of basing our fees on the amount of time reasonably required to perform the work. We will periodically send you statements for our fees. We will also include a statement for actual expenses incurred by us on your behalf, such as photocopies, long distance telephone charges, travel, etc.

I will of course always be

Dear Mr. Hertzstein:

Thank you for your letter of July 7, 1987. I am pleased that you accepted to act as Agent of the Attorney General of Canada.

In order for me to pay your account it has:

(a) to contain the following certifying clause

"I hereby certify that I have rendered the services herein referred to and that this account truly shows the nature of the services rendered, the time occupied, the fees claimed, the disbursements made and all moneys received by me in this manner."

Agent of the Attorney General of Canada

- (b) to clearly set out the hours worked and the rate charged,
- (c) to clearly set out the disbursements.

In addition, your charged account may not exceed $30,000 without prior written authorization from me.

Canada

I presume the middle paragraph of your letter of July 7 indicates your willingness to do so. However, for greater certainty I thought it best to spell out these details.

I return herewith your letter signed as requested.

Yours sincerely,
